

The FCC should not implement any proposal that would lessen Indiana's Telephone Privacy law protections.

This protection has greatly reduced the number of unwanted incoming calls to my home.

What used to be numerous interruptions every evening has been reduced to 1 - 2 interruptions a week.

I wish there was a list that would prevent the unwanted use of my e-mail address also.

Every unwanted telephone call and unwanted e-mail I consider an abuse of my privacy, and a trespass of my home. I should have some option available to me to prevent this.
